

Showcasing Breakthrough Technologies for Personalized Cosmetics and Skin Care

March 12th , 2013, Princeton, NJ, USA

PROGRAM DETAILS

The Technical Forums at the International Dermatology Institute offer Technology-based companies an unique opportunity to showcase their latest solution to a selected panel of industry leaders seeking for new technologies in the field (e.g. R&D Department leaders, Product Portfolio Managers, Innovation scouts of large international companies)

As a participant you will have the opportunity to present your solutions (including product demonstration) during a highly interactive and intimate format. The three-hour event will only be offered to three select companies and followed by a networking reception and product demonstration. You will have the opportunity of making quality contact that can be further developed with companies such as P&G , Johnson and Johnson, Colgate...

As an example, the past two IDI Technology sessions have generated more than nine high quality discussions (under non disclosure agreements) for its total of four participating companies.

EVENT PARTNERS

The International Dermatology Institute is committed to help technology-based companies around the world expand their business in US, with a specific focus on Personalized Cosmetics and Skin Care. IDI is a partnership between DermaNest (US Market Entry mandate), the Center for Dermal Research (Academic Research mandate) and the TRI-Princeton Center for Skin Science and Applied Dermatology (Application Development and Incubation mandate). IDI's business model and highly experienced teams empower early stage companies to play in high growth market segments, at a fraction of the cost of alternative solutions.
